The kitchen is the scene of activity many hours before the hundreds of hungry Rogerites descend on the cafeteria fourth hour. Preparations for the day's meal is in "full swing" when the bus drivers bring the first loads of students.

The crew of bus drivers, besides bringing students to and from school, provide "extra-curricular" transportation for athletic teams and student groups on field trips.

The activities of the day leave their mark on the building and it is the task of the custodians to see these marks are "erased." They work behind the scenes to keep Rogers in "A-1" condition. All three groups of workers do their part to keep RHS functioning efficiently.

The cooks come early to prepare the daily meals for fourth hour's hungry group of students.

As we leave Rogers, we look back on our four years in high school with many fond memories of teachers, studies, friends, and parties. Our freshman year began with much confusion and commotion, but we soon became acquainted with the school and our classmates. As members of the sophomore class, many of us participated in the variety show and joined more and more activities. Class rings arrived during our junior year and were worn proudly by members of our class. The Junior-Senior Prom, "Hello, Young Lovers," of which we were in charge, came and went and we found ourselves in this our last year at Rogers. Our senior year was spent enjoying athletic contests, clubs, and social events, but mostly we planned for our futures, whether they be in college, armed services, or jobs. We are now able to look back on these four years with the full realization that they have prepared us well for the future.

At last we have reached the

UNDERCLASSMEN

Chosen to lead the class of '64 were Kathy Musch, Secretary; Jeff Kozy, President; Maggie Kuhl, Vice President; and Dawn Lange, Treasurer.

As we entered into our third year at Rogers the sudden reality that graduation and leaving RHS are only a year away deepened our thoughts. We can now regard younger classes with understanding and envy. Entering into more advanced subjects and planning for the future occupied many of our school hours. In lighter moments we proudly displayed our junior class rings and set out to make the 1963 junior-senior prom the best yet. As juniors we have become more serious and mature. We know the responsibility of being next year's seniors and leading our school. With this awakening we will strive to make our last years at Rogers the best and the RHS class of '64 one to remember.

Mike Perkins, President; Tom Smith, Vice President; Anne Ashbacker, Secretary; and Chuck Smith, Treasurer, were chosen to lead the class of '65.

Making the transition from a junior to senior high school was the task that confronted us as sophomores. New to Rogers and its routines, we were regarded as the traditional "greenhorns." Election of class officers was our initial step in becoming truly a part of Rogers High. At the 1962 Homecoming we established ourselves socially Throughout the year, we were a main factor contributing to over-all school spirit. Various activities provided the outlet for initiative, ingenuity, and drive. In the final days of our sophomore year, we can look back and see that the process of maturing has begun. Ready to meet the challenge our junior year presents, we go with confidence into the future.

As sophomores we were taught the valuable to golfers and netters

If Rogers halls were crowded this year then so were our tennis courts, spring, summer and fall. Even the August winds, which flattened our fence and sent our tennis umpire's chair into the next county, failed to solve the traffic problem on the courts. This congestion was mainly caused by some forty female Rogerites who were stricken with "tennis fever," which seemed to be relieved only by hitting thousands of forehands, backhands and serves.

The top seven girls represented Rogers in matches, distinguished by their distance from Toledo and by exceptionally fine competition. Thirty girls went to Kalamazoo for an intra-city match between Rogers and the Southwestern Michigan Junior Wrightman Cup team. Five more Rogerites helped their school defeat Mansfield St. Peter's girls' team on their courts. The highlight of the season was a triangular match held in Middletown between Middletown, Cincinnati Wyoming and Rogers' top seven girls. Each of our girls was housed with her Middletown opponent.

All year long those same crowded halls were brightened by the girls tennis team's navy blue blazers, their reward for representing their school so well.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Student Council is the only organization in the school in which the members are elected by the student body. This student government teaches democracy, leadership, and parliamentary procedure.

The Student Council has many special activities each year. The annual projects are the sportsmanship contest, elections, Christmas dance, and participation in two charity drives. This year two special projects were completed for the athletic department and a sportsmanship banner was made for the gym. A new mascot was also purchased for the school. Young Rambunctious may be seen representing the school at each football game.

This year the tenth annual convention of the Ohio Association of Student Councils is being held at Whitmer High School. The Rogers Student Council has been made in charge of registration.

In the scholastic phase of student life, the Student Council offers 250.00 scholarship to college bound seniors.

Meeting deadlines is the number one worry of the Rogerian staff. Daily meetings of the publications "crew" during sixth hour often extend to after school and Saturday sessions to meet the publishers quotas. Much time is spent selecting the "just right" photographs from the many that find their way into the "pub." Pictures and copy, along with the ingenuity and creativity of staff members, go into each page of the Rogerian. The hard work pays off though, when the books are distributed and comments of "the best book ever"drift back to the staff.

Office workers and librarians

Office workers are responsible for taking the daily attendance.

Working earnestly in the attendance office, front or main office, and doing odd jobs for faculty members occupies the time of sophomore, junior, and senior girls working in the offices. Typing and filing, or working on schedules may be tasks set before the girls by the dean of girls, Mrs. Tracy, or the dean of boys, Mr. Carman. Answering the telephone, calling absentees "just to check," or getting fellow students out of class also are chores entering the workers' daily hours in the administration offices. The girls are often called on by the principal, Mr. Robert Schultz, for assistance in various fields. Although these girls have not formed their own club as yet, the unselfishness with which they gave up their study halls, and the willingness to work for the benefit of Rogers certainly makes them an outstanding group deserving recognition.

help Rogers to run efficiently

Mrs. Franklin's student librarians, an ambitious group of Rogerites, work in the library every day before school, and throughout the day during class periods and lunch hour.

These students give up their time and study halls to assist in checking books in and out and to keep the library neat by dusting and straightening shelves. They also help mend and repair damaged books. Typing and keeping the card catalogue up to date are other of their duties.

The service that makes the student librarians invaluable to a number of Rogerites is the fact that they show students where to locate needed information and reference material. This group plays a major role in the efficient functioning of the Sarah M. Perry Room.

Steve Mix, Elsie Edson, and Dave Boston take advantage of the quiet library to study.

Films, time schedules, needs of teachers, and availability of projectionists are all the things the audio-visual department must carefully plan for efficiency. Doing a good job each year is the major goal of any projectionist. The club added something new to Rogers as females became members. Girls proved that they were just as capable as their fellow male members. Of great value academically were the films viewed in Rogers' classes. Students found their subjects to be more interesting with the audio-visual aids. Overseeing the work of this vital department is Mr. Lusher, the group's advisor.

Pep Club

Another new club was added to Rogers this year, the pep club. It's task was to create more school spirit in the school body. Enthusiastic Rogerites worked many hours making locker signs for members of athletic teams. "Fight" slogans were posted in the hallway which pompted a more enthusiastic atmosphere. Later in the year a bake sale was held to pay for paper, paint and other material used. From the pep club was derived the "pep section." This was composed of interested members from the club. Talented students put a lot of effort into shaking pom-poms to coincide with the cheers. The pep section occasionally rented buses and traveled with the cagers to the opponents' courts. Members did a fine job adding color and entertainment to home basketball games. We shall look in the future years to the Pep Club for community service.

Membership in the Varsity "R" Club is open to any boy who has obtained a varsity letter in any of Rogers' sports such as football, baseball, track, basketball, wrestling, golf, or tennis. Not only is the Varsity Club a sign of athletic achievement but also one of good sportsmanship. The Varsity "R" Club took on a new look this year as their official symbol changed from the varsity jackets to the red "v" neck sweaters on which to display letters.

President Warren Hartman calls for a vote on the new Varsity "R" sweater.

Athletic interest is combined

Tom Wismer, Dick Wagoner, and Warren Hartman, all active members of the Key Club, pause long enough to have their pictures taken.

Under the combined leadership of Mr. Jim Hays and Mr. Tom Lyons, the Key Club serves as a public organization trying to improve our school and community. This organization, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and under the school's direction, has two symbols which are present at the monthly meetings. One is a flag with the international Kiwanis insignia and a gold bell. The Key Club serves students in many ways. School spirit during this year's football season was partly due to the club's project of selling clever tags to students campaigning for victory. At the wrestling matches, the organization sponsored the selling of refreshments to spectators. At the end of each year, one deserving senior is awarded a one hundred dollar scholarship. Any boy with a "C" average is eligible for membership.

The Girls' Athletic Association provides the sports minded girl an opportunity to participate in competitive activities. Field hockey, volleyball, and basketball are some of the sports that are included in this program. The G.A.A. also adds to the social life at Rogers. The annual Farmer's Frolic held in the fall, and the traditional spring dance give the "gals" a chance to ask their favorite "guy." Every proud member of G.A.A. can display her school's club by wearing a G.A.A. sweatshirt. One of the major projects this year was a paper mache' ram. The bigger than life size ram was used at pep rallies and the Homecoming Dance. At the end of the year at the annual G.A.A. banquet, certain outstanding members are chosen most valuable players for field hockey, basketball, and volleyball. Service projects, such as providing a needy family with food and clothing during the Christmas season, rounded out the year's activities.

The Y-teen Club, an international organization, is represented by each class at Rogers, and any girl may belong. The purpose of the Y-Teens is to develop leadership, deepen spiritual value, and serve others in the school, nation, and world. Various service projects keep the Y-Teens well occupied, along with splash parties, fudge sales, and their close association with the Y.W.C.A. They participated in the annual area Y-TEENS Dance by sending a representative from Rogers. Aid to the needy and less fortunate during the seasons of Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Easter was a great tribute from this organization of girls this past year. The building of good character, better citizenship, leadership, cooperation, kindness, initiative, and expression are all goals set forth by the girls, and a Y-TEEN is a representation of all these qualities.

Such is the motto of the Youth for Christ Club. With the help of the sponsor, Mrs. Tracy, the club tries to maintain its two goals: 1) To promote Christian standards on campus, and 2) To present Jesus Christ to the Rogerites as Savior, Lord and Coming King.

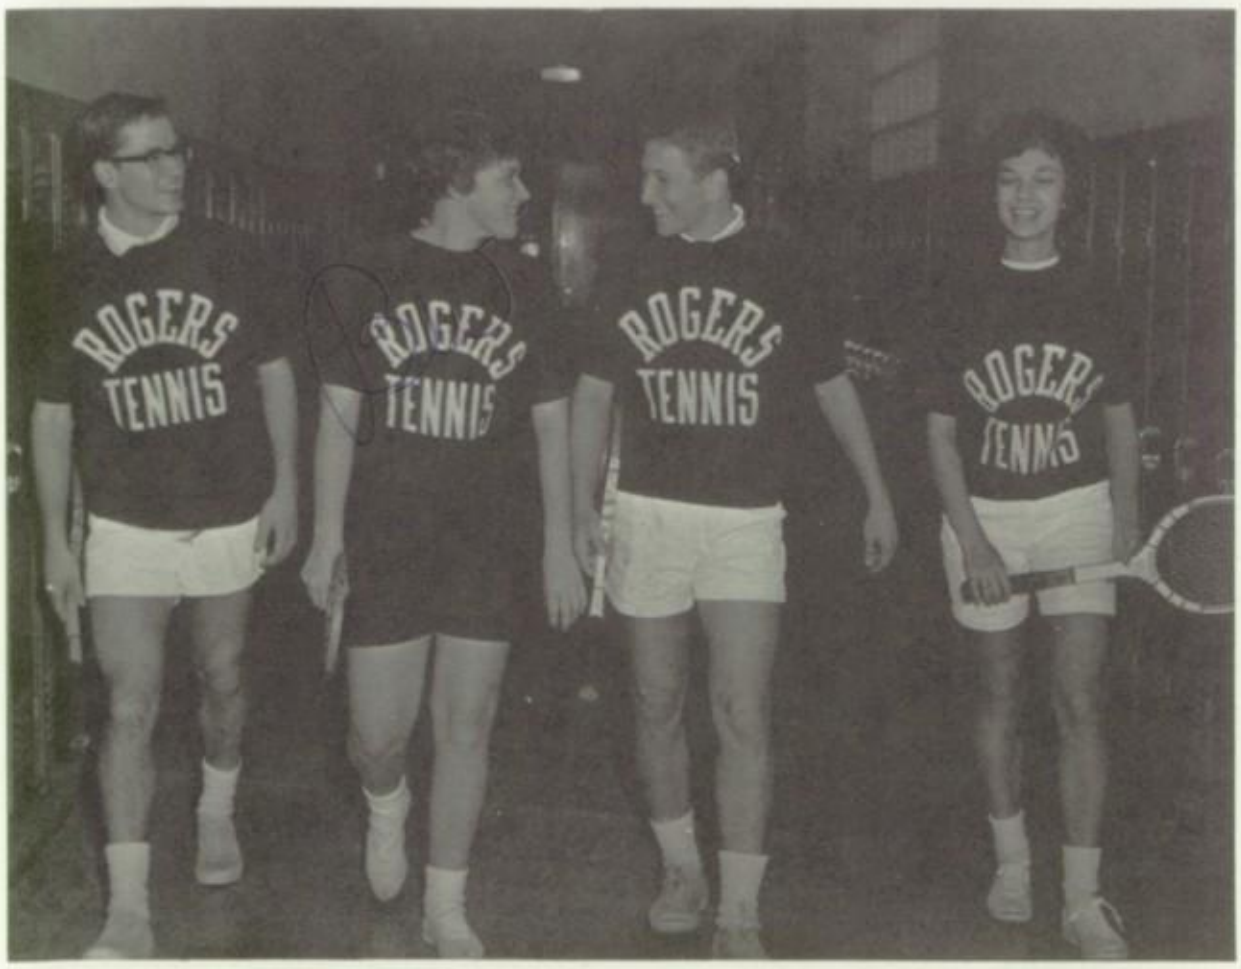
principals and love of sports



Promoting tennis in school and community is the goal of Rogers' Tennis Club. In spring and early fall, of course, the club's activities were centered on the courts. Trips for both the competing and spectator factions of the club were also on the agenda.

In winter, the club's energy took a different channel. The member-players turned instructors for the children of St. Anthony's Villa. Bi-weekly, the members, along with coach-advisor Mr. Robert O'Connell, traveled to the orphanage to teach the children the fundamentals of tennis.

On their way to the tennis courts are Jeff Kozy, Bev Gilley, Pete Kozy, and Beth Sunday.

The Rifle club promotes an interest in competitive rifle shooting. To become a member a student must have only a desire to learn. Members journey weekly to the R.O.T.C. unit of the University of Toledo. Marksmanship is not the sole purpose of these practices, however, sportsmanship and co-operation are also stressed.

Rifle, Riding, and Bowling clubs

Bowling

This year Rogers has reactivated its Bowling Club because interest was so strong. On Tuesday afternoon, many members can be found at Reynolds Corners Recreation engaging in their favorite sport. Only an interest in bowling is necessary for membership. Later members are taught to follow the rules set up by the Junior Bowling Congress. Yet having fun and learning the skills are secondary to good sportsmanship at all times. The Bowling Club adds to the action at Rogers High School.

Riding

An interest in horses and riding is the only qualification necessary to join the Riding Club. Striving to improve their horsemanship is the main objective of the club's members. The club spends much time horseback riding and sponsors trail rides held throughout the school year at various riding academies. Although the Riding Club's members are interested in horses they do not claim to be authorities and sometimes call upon an expert horseman for a few "tips."

Rogers High School is the scene

Whenever the weather permits, members of the Archery Club venture out into the fresh air to learn the fundamentals of archery and to practice marksmanship. The favorite practice spot for the bow and arrow enthusiasts is the plot of land beside the school on McTigue Road. Instructions, practice, and the creation of interest in archery serve as the purposes of the Archery Club. To uphold these purposes periodic archery shoots are planned. The club provides an opportunity for fun and relaxation. When spring comes, students look forward to this invigorating sport.

Dana McKown, Shirley Babiuch, and Bill Brubaker await warmer weather so that they can resume their matches.

Aviation

In addition to leisure club activities the members of the RHS Aviation Club have many educational studies of airplanes, rockets, and the new fields in air travel. Students entering the teaching profession show their interest in education by participating in Rogers' Future Teachers of America. This year, one of the main events on the club's calendar was a trip to Bowling Green University. Advisors, Miss Leonard and Mr. Weisenauer were always available to provide advice for FTA members.

FNA

Students interested in nursing make up the membership of Future Nurses of America. Working in the school health room, they gained valuable experience this year. The Future Nurses took a trip to the Sunshine Home, where they made clothes bags for the children. In the money making phase of club activities, members sponsored a fudge sale in the school lobby. Among the speakers that lectured at their club meetings were "candy stripers," and an expert on child care. From club activities, members are better prepared for their future.

Helen Crowley checks health room supplies as part of her duty as "student" nurse.

Homemaking

An interest in homemaking is the only prerequisite for membership in the Rogers' Homemaking Club. With the able help of their advisor, Mrs. Williams, the girls undertook many projects during the school year. They began by making gifts for the Lutheran Children's Home. Later, they gave Rogerites a sample of home baked cookies at a cookie sale. In the spring, they presented their annual style show, "Fashion Fantasy." All their activities came into the category of practical experience which will qualify members for their future task of homemaking.

Ruth Schwartz, Sharon Abbey, and Bonnie Holley put finishing touches on toys.

Students taking business courses with plans for entering the secretarial field are eligible for membership in the Secretarial Club. Formerly FBLA, the club's aim is to acquaint its members with the world of business. The main project of the club is a secretarial pool. Through this convenience, students can have term papers, letters, club projects, or any form of work typed for a small fee. In addition to students, faculty members took advantage of this service during the year.

Art

The only club of its nature in the Toledo area is the Art Club. Each year the Art Club strives to fulfill its three main objectives. They are promotion, knowledge of, and assisting in art activities. This year a plan was initiated through which student works could be viewed in the school. These original works were added to certain classes and study halls to replace past prints. Carrying on tradition, the club purchased a painting to add to the past collection of works given to the school. Other projects of the members are the maintenance of a coat check. The advisor is Mr. Don Eaton.

Jon Teschner, Joyce Kmiec, and Elsie Edson put the finishing touches on the Art Club's Christmas display.

Quill and Scroll

The only national honor society at Rogers is Quill and Scroll. To be eligible for membership a student must have obtained recognition in a phase of school journalism. A prospective member must meet qualifications set by the National society before being asked to join the RHS chapter. Quill and Scroll initiations, twice yearly, pave the way for membership. Only following the "torture" do new members receive the gold "Quill and Scroll" pins. Making its appearance for the second year through the work of the students and advisor, Mrs. Evelyn Haas, was the literary magazine "Reflections." This magazine published outstanding essays, fiction, and artwork submitted by both students and faculty members. Another project of the year was the sale of Christmas ads which appeared in the Rampage. Profit made from the sales was used to finance "Reflections" and other club activities.

Isabel Rapp and Susie Trick were two of the innocent "victims" of the Quill and Scroll initiation.

The Latin Club has proved itself to be outstanding this year through the leadership of Mrs. Van Fleet. As advisor of the club, she received the Hildesheim Vase for outstanding promotion of high school Latin. One of the main events this year was the annual banquet which featured, in the typical Roman style, everything from "eggs to apples."

The objectives of the French Club are the acquaintance with the French language, people, history and customs. Monthly meetings were conducted in French where songs were sung and skits were performed. Members will long recall the male dancers who did the "Can-Can." Activities of the year consisted of a French exhibition tour, the Masquerade de Carousel and a banquet. Mrs. Abell, the advisor, has led the club to an active and successful year.

The Spanish Club stresses the Spanish traditions in speech, entertainment and good deeds. With the helping hand of Mr. William Faulkner, the club advisor, many worthwhile projects were undertaken, one of which was giving aid to needy families during the Christmas season. Sponsoring a fudge sale and attending a spring banquet highlighted the year.

"Primer Ano" was a familiar sight during initation of Spanish Club members.

Rogers' choir appeared not only for our students but for other groups. Here they are displaying their talents at the annual football banquet.

Choir

Rogers' choir represents those students who excel in vocal ability. The choir presents programs throughout the year. The most outstanding which are the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies. Graduation provides another opportunity for choir members to perform for the students of Rogers. In addition, the Lucas County Music Festival, at the Peristyle, combines all the Lucas County High School Choirs in a concert once each year. Students have many opportunities to perform in combined programs with the Rogers High Concert Band.

Band

Under the new direction of Mr. Kenneth Widowson, this year's band continued to provide music, color, and spirit for the student body. All members put in hard work and effort to produce weekly halftime shows during football season. The high point of each show was, as students and alumni will recall, when the crowds were still and the band played our alma mater. Besides providing halftime entertainment, members will add pomp and ceremony to commencement exercises. This year Rogers' band combined "forces" with the McTigue band to present the annual concert. Those musicians with outstanding skill were given an opportunity to display their talent in competition. First, was the district contest held at Bowling Green University. Those receiving a "1" rating went on to compete with other winners on a state level. Throughout the year, the band strove to attain its goal of high-level musical presentation.

Leslie Harper, a junior, stepped in high style as drum major for the marching band.

A game, coronation, and dance marked

Football co-captains, Marv Tiller and Dick Wagoner performed the coronation at the dance following the game. Her majesty was presented with a dozen roses, a royal cape, and a crown. After the ceremony Dick gave Leslie a congratulatory kiss. She had trouble with a slipping crown.

The Queen was presented at half-time with royal attendants Gail Kuehnle, Diane Paskiet, and Anne Schwieterman. The team went on to a 30—14 win over Lakewood St. Edwards in 26° football weather.

Reigning over the October festivity was Miss Leslie Gail.

Sandra Winchell tries her feminine charm on Bill.

Dear Phoebe, a comedy in three acts, was presented November 16 and 17 in the school gymnasium. This humorous play replaced the traditional fall musical. Editorial offices of a daily newspaper provided the setting. Bill Hastings, a college professor seeks adventure in the newspaper world as Phoebe Goodheart who dispenses advice to the love-lorn. When Bill falls in love with Mickey Riley, the female sports writer, complications set in. G. R. Fosdick is a cantankerous boss, and the spinster owner of the newspaper interferes. Sandra Wilson adds spice to the farce in the form of an office playgirl. A gangster and a murder contribute mystery to the plot. Dear Phoebe was under the direction of Mr. William Faulkner and Mr. Warren Boudinot.

Appreciation and thanks are shown to Mr. George Maharis for his time and effort in the selection of the 1963 ROGERIAN queen. Mr. Maharis plays the role of Buz Murdock, who seeks adventure throughout the U.S. on his program "Route 66." He is also a well-known recording artist. Nominated by a group of faculty members on the basis of scholarship, activities, personality, attitude, citizenship, and beauty, the six girls pictured here were candidates for the ROGERIAN queen. Mr. Maharis, who appears weekly on the Detroit station WJBK-TV, Channel 2, chose Miss Georgia Webster for this honor. Having been a student at Rogers for four years, Georgia has been an active member in GAA, Y-TEENS, Latin Club, Tennis Club, and has served as editor of the ROGERIAN and Rampage.

Nobody should ever consider his education complete. You can't go wrong by getting as much schooling as possible. So strongly does Toledo Edison feel about this that we finance three scholarships a year at the University of Toledo.

Lots of college graduates find Toledo Edison a good place to work. Investor-owned electric companies offer interesting careers in many fields. You might want to look into this.
